

January Wine of the Month

Rated 94 Points
James Suckling

2015 Chateau des Jacques Moulin-à-Vent Clos de RocheGRES

The Moulin à Vent "Clos de RocheGRès" has a very nice garnet-red color with crimson tints. It releases very fine aromas of flowers (rose) with a touch of mineral. The wine is generous and tender on the palate thanks to the elegant and long lasting tannins. This wine will perfectly match red meats in sauce, game and most cheeses.

Rated 94 Points, James Suckling – “Extremely rich aromas of crushed ripe berries and hints of forest fruit. Stones, too. Dense, full-bodied, mineral and creamy with a stoney undertone. Crazy wine. Great Beaujolais.”

Rated 93 Points, Wine Enthusiast – “From this always impressive estate, owned by Louis Jadot in Beaune, this wine is richly structured and dense. With some wood aging, it has an extra ripeness and tannic concentration. This cru wine with its tight texture and minerality will age. Drink from 2018.” Rated 90 Points, Wine Spectator
